

CONTEST

Got a competitive Nature? Think you take a mean photo? Want a little extra cash? Well then, this contest is for you!

To assist you in your quest to get that perfect nature shot, the RRWA will hold an indoor photography workshop on September 28 and an outdoor field session on October 19.

Visit our facebook page or website for more information. The contest is free.

WORKSHOP

This indoor workshop given by Jacki Dickert and hosted at the Rahway Library will cover: local spots for finding wildlife and beautiful scenery, best practices for photographing animals and landscapes, tips for creating compelling compositions, and more.

Visit our facebook page or website for more information. The workshop is free.

FIELD SESSION

During this field session and using the Rahway River Park as an outdoor classroom, Jacki will supplement the information presented at our September 28 Workshop at the Rahway Library.

On this guided photowalk, she will provide hands-on technical and artistic assistance.

Visit our facebook page or website for more information. The field session is free.

OPENING

An opening reception to debut the winners of the photography contest will be held in February.

All Union County elected officials, employees, contest winners and participants, and the general public are invited.

Wine and cheese will be served.

Location and date TBD.

This is a free event.

EXHIBIT

The public will get a chance to view first, second and third place, youth category and people's choice winners, plus a select group of honorable mention photographs in a traveling exhibit.

Framed and matted photos will be displayed at several locations around Union County.

Locations and dates TBD.
